

MODULE 10

Week One

Final Syllables: -tion, -sure, -ture

This week, we will look closer at the final syllables of words, particularly those with the final stable syllables -tion, -sure, and -ture which are pronounced as: -tion → /shen/; -sure → /sher/; -ture → /cher/.

Example Words

-tion
action

-sure insure

-ture
future

Week Two

Double Consonants (VCCV)

This week, we will be talking about words with the VCCV (v = vowel, c = consonant) spelling pattern. This pattern has two consonants in the middle, creating the “double consonant” spelling pattern. Looking at each word’s syllables, VCCV words are “divided” between the two consonants.

Example Words

admit → ad·mit subject → sub·ject
dentist → den·tist
sister → sis·ter

Week Three

Words with /j/ and /s/

This week, we will be exploring words that end in -le, -al, -el, and -er. These endings are pronounced as:

-le and -el → /el/
-al → /l/ or /el/
-er → /er/

Example Words

-le sample

-al central

-el model

-er
ruler